

Dmitry Mints Named “Investor of the Year”

Moscow, Russia – 21 June 2012 – Dmitry Mints, Chairman of the Management Board of O1 Properties, has been named “Investor of the Year” in the CRE-100 rating of the most influential people in the commercial real estate market, which was compiled by the trade magazine Commercial Real Estate.

Dmitry Mints was awarded the “Investor of the Year” title following an assessment by independent experts. Factors taken into consideration to compile the rating include the nominee’s professional activities, completed projects, public profile, professional awards and the company’s market activities.

Dmitry Mints has headed O1 Properties since its foundation. Under his leadership the Company has become one of the largest owners of Class A and B+/B office space in the Russian capital.

In addition, Boris Mints, the Company’s principal shareholder, was ranked sixth in the rating’s new category “Real Estate Owners”. This ranking took into account nominee companies’ rental income and their level of activity demonstrated over the last year.
